How to Cite Information Using MLA Format
(based on the MLA Handbook, 7th ed.)

The list of works cited should appear as the last page of your research paper. The entire list should be double-spaced within the lines of each citation and in alphabetical order by the last name of each author. If the author’s name is unknown, alphabetize by the title, ignoring any initial The, A, or An. Note the indentation after the first line of each citation. The following is an example of how the top of your Works Cited page should look:
