Agricultural and Industrial Technology is an inter-disciplinary program designed to prepare the student for positions of employment requiring a general background in the application of technology or transfer to the state university system. The introductory program in Industrial Mechanics is intended to allow students to acquire a solid base of skills in a variety of mechanical areas. More advanced skills can be learned in courses leading to the Industrial Technician certificate.

Degree Options at Hartnell:
Certificate of Achievement in Agricultural & Industrial Mechanics, Industrial Mechanics

Related Careers
- Farm Shop and Equipment Dealer Mechanic
- Processing Facility Maintenance Worker or Supervisor
- Parts Technician
- Refrigeration Technician
- Equipment Fabricator
- Industrial Equipment Mechanic or Operator
- Parts Clerk

Related Skills
- Mechanical
- Production and processing
- Mathematics
- Repairing
- Equipment maintenance
- Operation monitoring
- Troubleshooting
- Quality control analysis
- Operations and control
- Critical thinking