INFORMATION/DISCUSSION/PRESENTATIONS

1. Presentation of the 2021-22 Measure T Bond Audit

   (VIA ZOOM)

   Two aspects to the audit, 1. The Financial and 2. The Performance.

   This audit year report reflects a slight change in the layout. The opinion is now listed on the first page where as in years past it has been on the last page.

   Financial – The unmodified opinion is of the highest quality. It is an entirely clean report; no exceptions were found.

   Performance: Type of audit is unique in that it asks if there is any money spent outside of the ballot language, even $100 would be a deficiency. The methodology is identified on page 4 and they used a large raw sample (14.16M) which is 79% of the total expenditures. This is considered a high sample. Again, the finding was of an entirely clean audit.

   Q: Why 79% and not 100%. A: Industry standards for audits only uses 100% for forensic audits. Outside of a forensic audit the standard is to use a sample basis. It is not required nor recommend to review 100% on this type of audit.

2. Report by the President

   Michael Gutierrez

   Monday starts classes. On the Thursday and Friday of this week our Student Success forum for staff and faculty is being held. Looking forward to a campus completely open. Still have many students utilizing hybrid and on-line classes.

   Will be looking for the Chancellor’s office to have a G.O. Bond on the ballot. We have two projects in Phase III that would qualify to be able to use those funds. The pandemic has changed the world, and once we know that part of the future, we will look at where best to use those funds.

   Q: Place for 4-year colleges to have a “home” on campus? A: Yes, that is being considered and also in works for dual admission – Admitted to HCCD and CSUMB, not just a transfer.

   Q: How is the technology issue? (Ransomware) A: Have instituted use of multifactor authentication. Student access has been the number one priority. Have found out we are not alone, and have received aid from other colleges, and have seen where other colleges have been hit and had to close, but we are coming through it. Direction is to be cloud based and looking at systems like AWS, but it does take funds to make that kind of move. $6 to $10 million.

3. Bond Projects’ Status

   Joseph Reyes

   The last of Phase I should be completed this week. Building K has been started just this past week. It is a renovation of the Performing Arts Building. It is scheduled to be completed December 2023.

   In the fall of 2023 the J building renovation project will be put out to bid. Currently, the Dept. of State Architect (DSA) is performing its review of the practice field and we hope to start April 2023. Building B 2nd floor has been competed and the majority of student services are now housed together in Building B.
Phase III will be Buildings F, G and H and Merrill Hall (Bldg. N). As stated earlier by President Gutierrez, the district is eligible to receive funds that would help augment the bond funds in the renovation of those three buildings. They are the oldest on campus. A university center is foreseen to be on the second floor of Bldg. N to answer Member Lewallen’s question.

David Techaira, Graciano Mendoza Committee members were provided the summaries from July 2022 through Jan 2023. In addition, the chart of expenses from inception through December 2022 and Budget to Actual expenditures for this fiscal year through Dec 2022 were also provided for review. Spending of the bond funds is being done in an appropriate manner and rate as regulations call for and as the audit has verified.
