Upon the recommendation of my staff, I am pleased to grant approval for California State University, Monterey Bay to offer the state-support Bachelor of Science degree program in Agricultural Plant and Soil Science, effective fall 2021, conditional on the existence of adequate resources. If the program is not implemented by 2026, the campus is required to submit to the Chancellor's Office an updated program proposal for review. In accordance with CSU Board of Trustees policy, performance review of this degree program should be scheduled to occur within five years of program implementation. The program has been assigned the CSU degree-program code 01021, and the CIP code is 01.1102. The campus is responsible for adding this degree program and any concentrations to the CSU Degrees Database. A change in support mode or location would require Chancellor's Office review and approval.
