Fifteen inductees join Hartnell Athletics Hall of Fame

On Nov. 3, Hartnell celebrated the achievements and contributions of former athletes, coaches and volunteers by inducting them into its Athletics Hall of Fame. Following a luncheon ceremony in the Student Center, plaques featuring each new honoree were unveiled in the Gymnasium. Inductees also were introduced at halftime of the Panthers’ win over Los Medanos in Rabobank Stadium.

This year’s inductees comprise eight individual athletes, two former coaches, two volunteers and three teams. They join 40 former alumni athletes, 10 coaches, 10 teams and 10 volunteers named to the Hall of Fame since 2013. Honorees were selected by a committee of Salinas-area business and community leaders, Hartnell administrators, past Hall of Fame inductees, former coaches and others based on nominations in the preceding year. (Pictured is honoree Jim Forkum, men’s basketball coach from 1991-95).

I received the following email thank you from coaching inductee Mike Garibaldi, who coached swimming and water polo at Hartnell from 1973-78: “It was a surprise and a pleasure to return to the campus and receive this honor. My wife and I were very impressed by the growth of the campus. … I will always be proud to say I had a small part to play in the evolution of this college. A Panther I will always remain.”
Transfer Day, College Night is Nov. 7 at Hartnell
The Hartnell campus community is invited to attend the 33rd Annual Salinas Valley Transfer Day and College Night on Nov. 7 in the Student Center. Transfer Day is scheduled from 9 to noon, and College Night will run from 6-8 p.m.

Although admission to the fair is free, on-campus parking regulations will be enforced in all lots.

These annual college fairs bring four-year universities from the CSU, UC, private colleges and out-of-state systems to our campus for the Salinas Valley to learn about various higher ed options.

Clinics offer free flu shots for MCSI G on Nov. 7, 8, 14-15
I encourage Hartnell employees to consider attending one of several remaining MCSI G influenza vaccination clinics. The flu shot is free for MCSI G members with your MCSI G ID card. The shot costs $24 for all others. All retirees, spouses and family members over age 9 are invited to attend. Besides washing your hands, avoiding sick people and getting plenty of rest, an influenza vaccination is your best defense against the flu.

Solar panel relocation continues to limit Parking Lot 3
Relocation of solar canopies will continue to limit spaces available in Parking Lot #3 (corner of Alisal and Homestead) through the week of Nov. 5. About two-thirds of the lot has been fenced off for your safety as the panels are dismantled in sections. The Parking Structure is the recommended alternative. All parking rules remain in effect.

The addition of solar panels on the third (top) level of the Parking Structure is scheduled to begin Dec. 10 and be completed by May 13. Thank you for your patience while we complete these two projects.

Workshop on state pension reform offered Nov. 8
Hartnell employees are invited to attend a free one-hour workshop on Nov. 8, “Unlocking the Power of Your Pension,” at either noon or 1:30 p.m. in S-218. The workshop will address how recent California pension reform legislation may impact your retirement planning. Please RSVP to Louann Raras at LRaras@hartnell.edu by noon on Nov. 7.
Mi CASA joins in Nov. 9 training on options for undocumented

Mi CASA will collaborate with the Salinas Valley Adult Education Consortium, Hartnell College Admissions and Records and Immigrants Rising to present “Access Guide to Hartnell College for Undocumented Students” from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Nov. 9 in B-208 on the Main Campus.

Participants will learn about current admissions policies and procedures and financial aid options, as well as new requirements and opportunities related to CA Senate Bill 68, CA Assembly Bill 540, Hartnell's new Administrative Procedure 5030, and more. Counselors, outreach representatives, advisors, teachers, social workers, case managers, advocates and anyone from partner agencies who works with undocumented individuals and their families are invited to attend this training to ensure they are equipped with the knowledge and tools necessary to appropriately advise and support potential students and their families as they transition to Hartnell.

Register as soon as possible at Eventbrite.

‘The Drowsy Chaperone’ set to open Nov. 10

The Western Stage is preparing to present “The Drowsy Chaperone,” a loving send-up of the frivolous, inconsequential musical comedies of the Jazz Age. When a die-hard musical theater fan plays a record of his favorite cast recording, an extravagant 1920s musical fantasy unfolds in his living room. Mix in a starlet who gives up the stage for love, a frazzled best man, a forgetful hostess, a misguided Don Juan, two gangsters posing as pastry chefs and an intoxicated chaperone, and you have the ingredients for an evening of madcap delight.

“The Drowsy Chaperone” performs Nov. 10-Dec. 8 in the Mainstage Theater, Building K. For tickets, visit www.westernstage.com/tickets or (831) 55-6816. Hartnell students FREE. Hartnell faculty/staff $15.
CSEA announces winners of Halloween costume contest

Hartnell members of the California School Employees Association (CSEA) selected two winners in its Halloween costume contest. Congratulations to Administrative Assistant Catalina Gonzalez, who dressed as a woodland fairy, and Admissions and Records Evaluator Jutta West, who dressed as Nana Fortnite.

First-year employees tour visual arts facilities

New employees in Hartnell’s First Year, First Friday group continued their introduction to the college Nov. 2 with a talk and tour by art and photography instructor Eric Bosler.

They began on the second floor of Building E, where participants could see exhibits on the study of aesthetics within each discipline in a hallway museum. Bosler also took the group to the Hartnell College Gallery in Building J, where art instructor and alumna Trish Sullivan talked about the current Dia de los Muertos exhibits and Hartnell’s 22-year-long community collaboration in celebrating the holiday. Finally, he toured the group through three distinct lab spaces in the STEMArt labs, where they got a chance to see the many tools available to STEM students as they work to make the invisible visible.

The First Year, First Friday program will continue Dec. 7 with a visit to the Hartnell Planetarium.
Taylor Farms celebrates with Industrial Maintenance grads
The third Taylor Farms’ Introduction to Industrial Maintenance Technician training program held a celebration luncheon Oct. 24 to commemorate approximately 50 employees completing the 10-week, 40-hour program. The training was based on the NCCER (National Center for Construction Education and Research) nationally recognized Industrial Maintenance Technician curriculum and customized to Taylor Farms’ automated processing equipment in Salinas.

The introductory program covered such subjects as basic safety, workplace communication, applied mathematics, mechanical blueprint reading and industrial equipment components. Hartnell is discussing additional trainings in 2019 with the Taylor Farms staff.

Alum gives tour of UCSC to Counseling 1 students
Nearly 30 students joined Hartnell Counselor Monica Galvan Oct. 20 on a trip she coordinated for students in her Counseling 1 class to visit UC Santa Cruz. She extended the invitation for any transfer student who was interested in visiting UCSC, and the Transfer and Career Center assisted with coordination. Former Hartnell student and WELI scholar Araceli Anaya provided the tour. Anaya is senior at UCSC and will soon graduate with a bachelor’s degree in sociology.

Athletics Report by Dan Teresa: Cross Country wins big, volleyball and soccer look to conference
- Men’s and Women’s Cross Country traveled to Shasta College for the Northern California Championships on Nov. 2. Led by Monica Ruelas, the women took first with the lowest team score in Hartnell history. The men placed second. Both teams will vie for a state championship on Nov. 17 at Fresno City College
- Volleyball has a huge week ahead. They will face Cabrillo at home on Nov. 7 and visit San Mateo Nov. 9 in matches that will decide the Conference Championship. The team is 23-4 and ranked ninth in the state.
• Football had a great win against Los Medanos on Nov. 3, 51-26, and will face Reedley for the conference championship and bowl game on Nov. 10 at Rabobank Stadium.

• Men’s Soccer is playing its best soccer of the year. The team defeated top seed San Francisco, 2-0, on Nov. 2. They are on a five-game winning streak and have two big games this week – at home against Cabrillo on Nov. 6 and away against West Valley on Nov. 9 to decide the conference championship.

• Women’s Soccer also has a big week. With a conference championship bid in hand, they are facing Los Positas at home on Nov. 6 and will visit West Valley on Nov. 9.
