A) Proposal to Allow “Double Counting” in the Hartnell College General Education pattern.
Currently, the default is not to count major courses as also meeting the local GE pattern. There are some instances where courses in a local degree are allowed to be counted as degree courses (required courses or restricted electives) and also as meeting the GE requirement, but in most cases, this is not allowed for the local and CTE degrees using the Hartnell. The AA-T and AS-T degrees allow double counting. The proposal is to recommend to Academic Senate that we revise our local policies to align with the ADT practice of allowing double counting for the local and CTE degrees. All degree pages will contain the statement “Students can double-count required degree courses and courses for General Education.”