Hello and welcome Hartnell students!
On behalf of ASHC, we would like to welcome all new and returning students to the fall semester. To all new students, we would like to introduce you to The Panther Press. The Panther Press is a monthly newsletter that is completely created by students, and for students. This newsletter is here to inform the students on the latest news on Hartnell, and to be used as a tool for resources and a guide throughout your educational journey at Hartnell. I hope this fall semester is only the beginning to your successful educational career. :)

COLLEGES AROUND CALIFORNIA HAVE MADE COVID-19 VACCINATIONS OBLIGATORY. WILL HARTNELL BE THE NEXT?

About 50% of classes at Hartnell College will be in-person for fall 2021. With this, Covid-19 precautions must be considered. However, this discussion is not reserved for Hartnell staff and faculty. On Wednesday, September 1st, the Associated Students of Hartnell College (ASHC) will be holding a town hall to discuss vaccination and Covid-19 testing mandates. Attend and share your opinions as students of this institution.
As we enter the fall semester, we celebrate the additions made to the King City Hartnell College Campus and the creation of the Soledad center! The approval of Measure T, a $167 million local bond measure, was able to move these projects forward along with a Castroville center expected to open spring 2022.

At King City, additions include two science labs, two multipurpose classrooms, a Student Success Center, Community Room, and a student kitchen and outdoor courtyard. With the STEM classrooms, labs which could not be offered before will now be available and more accessible to those who live in South County. Both campuses work to accommodate South County students.

Join the Celebration!

To commemorate the new Soledad center, Hartnell is hosting a community celebration at the Soledad center from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 23. A free picnic lunch will be served.
